

Democratic Northwest.

GREENBACK PLATFORM.

The following platform was adopted by the Greenbackers last week:

First, that the right to make or issue money is a sovereign power to be maintained by the people for the common benefit. The delegation of this right to corporations is a surrender of the central attribute of sovereignty, void of constitutional sanction, conferring upon a subordinate, irresponsible power absolute dominion over industry and commerce. All money, whether metallic or paper, should be issued and its volume controlled by the Government, and not by or through banking corporations; and when so issued should be a full legal tender for all debts, public and private.

Second—That the bonds of the United States should be paid as rapidly as is practical. To enable the Government to meet these obligations, legal tender currency should be substituted for the notes of the National banking system abolished, and the unlimited coinage of silver as well as gold established by law.

Third—We demand the equal protection of labor and capital by law.

Fourth—We are opposed to all subsidies by Government.

Fifth—All lines of communication and transportation should be brought under such legislative control as shall secure moderate, fair and equitable rates for passenger and freight traffic.

Sixth—We condemn the cruel class legislation of the Republican party, which, while professing great gratitude to the soldier, has most unjustly discriminated against him and in favor of the bondholder.

Seventh—All property should bear its just proportion of taxation, and we demand a graduated income tax.

Eighth—We denounce as most dangerous the efforts, wherever manifest, to restrict the right of suffrage.

Ninth—We are opposed to an increase of the standing army in time of peace, and the insidious scheme to establish an enormous military power under the guise of militia law.

Tenth—That the practice of the railroads of this State in issuing free passes over their lines of roads to the members of the Legislature and all other officers of the State, is vicious and corrupting and ought not to be sanctioned or tolerated, but should be prohibited by stringent laws.

Eleventh—That the practice of turning out faithful officers connected with the supervision and management of the different institutions of the State upon mere party ground, is prejudicial to the best interests of the State, and ought not to be sanctioned by any party.

Twelfth—Prison convict labor should be utilized by the State alone.

Thirteenth—That we favor the submission by the Legislature to a vote of the people of an amendment to the Constitution prohibiting the manufacture, sale or use of intoxicating drinks as a beverage.

The Democratic Opportunity.

The Democracy of Ohio have it in their power to carry the State in October. The Republicans have nominated a ticket which is not strong, and have adopted a platform which is tricky, evasive, untruthful, weak. The Republicans of Ohio and the Republicans of the country are by no means confident of carrying the State, are scarcely hopeful. Governor Foster is far from being as strong as he was two years ago. The prestige of success has not clung to him during the last year. He was a candidate for the United States Senate, and permitted himself to be beaten by behavior not very spirited. He was ambitious for a Cabinet position, and was again eulged by his weakness. His meddling with National politics and his handling of Ohio politics have made many of his former friends lukewarm, and has entirely alienated others. It is known that the President and Foster have so little confidence in Foster's election that she Berlin Mission is to be held open for Foster till the result of the October election is learned. This is the first manifestation of Garfield's gratitude to Foster for the inestimable services of the latter. The Republican ticket in Ohio is not stronger than its head. The Republican party is weaker in Ohio by many thousands of votes, than it was two years ago; weaker by many thousands than it was three months ago. President Garfield has weakened it. The late Legislature has weakened it. The attitude of the party toward the temperance question has weakened it. The platform adopted at Cleveland has weakened it. Its affront to the Israelites, a large and influential voting class, has weakened it. The thinly-disguised, disreputable trick in the alleged temperance plank of the platform adopted on Wednesday has insulted the intelligence of the temperance advocates in the party, and has produced no compensating advantage. It is become the rule that the Democrats carry Ohio in the 'off years'; and this has twice consecutively been done when the conditions were far less favorable than at present—in 1872 and in 1877. It only remains for the Ohio Democrats to nominate a strong ticket and adopt a wise platform to win the October victory.

The Republicans have insisted upon bringing National issues into this State campaign. They have selected the tariff question, which is not in issue in the State election. If the National questions are to be discussed in this Ohio canvass, what if the Democrats choose to discuss other than the tariff subjects? There is one question which is always in order, which is local and National, and which concerns the people at all times and at all places—public virtue. Let us discuss that. Let us begin with the Star Route robberies committed during an Administration of perfect parity, of immaculate character. Let us discuss Brady. What of the public honor? This is a favorite topic with Republicans. Then let us discuss Mahone and Riddleberger and the newly formed Republican alliance with repudiation. What about devotion to the public business on the part of public servants? Then let us discuss the Republican blockade of the public business for more than two months—a blockade kept up for the infamous purpose of completing an infamous bargain with a renegade and a man but yesterday denounced by all the Republicans as a repudiator. These questions of public morality and fidelity we may well claim are always in issue.

The device of injecting the protection plank in the Republican platform is so palpable as to be concealed from none. It was done for the purpose of drawing the Democracy into the discussion of this question in order that the monopolists may have an opportunity to repeat their practice of intimidation with the laboring classes. The Republican method of discussing this subject is to file notice upon employees that the mills will become silent, that employment will cease, that laborers will be discharged, if the Republican ticket is not elected. Will the Ohio Democracy be foolish enough in this campaign, which can have no possible logical bearing upon the tariff legislation, to fall into this trap? Will the leaders of the Ohio Democracy aid this scheme of the enemy? Is it not plain that in a short struggle intimidation will beat argument? Will the Ohio Democrats allow the Republicans to choose their own battle-ground, and one on which their tyrannical methods are invincible?

Gov. Foster and Methodism.

The Republican leaders in this State are far from sanguine of success. The course of the Republican Legislature last winter on the temperance question has weakened the party by alienating the Prohibitionists who have been voting for them during the past three years. Two years ago the question came up in the Northern Ohio Conference of the M. E. Church as to whether the members of the denomination could consistently vote with the Republican party. The matter was compromised by putting the party on two years' probation, and if within that time the Republican leaders redeemed their pledges as to the enactment of temperance legislation, they would receive the support of the Methodists and Prohibitionists in the future; if not, then that support would be withdrawn. This elected Governor Foster and a Republican Legislature two years ago. With what fidelity have the pledges of Republicans been redeemed? Let us see. The friends of temperance went to the Legislature and asked the passage of a local option law. Governor Foster was opposed to such an enactment, and defeated it by having a bill introduced taxing the liquor traffic at a rate that would largely drive it out of existence. He skillfully managed to kill the Local Option bill with the Tax bill, and then at the close of the session he had the Tax bill killed, so that the friends of temperance were left without any legislation. The Stubbs Sunday bill, which was intended to prevent the sale of beer and liquors on Sunday, was so manipulated by Governor Foster as to be changed into license for beer on Sunday and then passed against the wishes of the originators of the measure. This systematic duplicity has driven off a large body of Republican voters, and a great many of the most thoughtful leaders of the party concede the State entire and a large majority of the Legislature to the Democrats. What wonder that the doctrine of centralization should be toppling on the edge of a precipice. The party bearing its banner is torn by internal dissensions and riven by the pangs of incurable corruptions. The national leaders of the organization charge one another with bad faith and prevarication, respecting "the spoils" of patronage. The leaves of discontent is doing its appointed work only too surely. Quoting from King James' version, we say Satan divided against himself cannot stand. The duty of Democrats amidst all this Republican uproar is plain and clear. Let the Republicans manage their intestine scandal and strife as best they can. "When rogues fall out, honest men come to their own." The Democracy has, by right, the majority of the votes of the United States and is entitled to her representatives in the highest places in the country. The Republicans are unmasking their political methods and political moralities as expeditiously as possible, and Democrats must raise no hand to stay their action. People of integrity and lovers of fair dealing everywhere are utterly disenchanted with the unclean spectacle presented. The result of all the Republican contention and bitter recrimination will surely be the edification of Democracy if wise and judicious men are placed at the heads of her columns.—Springfield Transcript.

The American Nurserymen's Association.

DAYTON, JUNE 16.—The American Nurserymen's association met in this city yesterday in the sixth annual convention, with an attendance of 150 representatives from all parts of the United States. Among those present were some leading horticulturists and florists. Peter Henderson, of New York; Thomas Meehan of Philadelphia; A. W. Webber, of Nashville, and N. A. Coleman, of St. Louis; Dr. Wardes, of Dayton. A very interesting paper was read on "Market Gardening" by Mr. Henderson and a carefully written essay on "Hybrids" by Mr. Meehan. The subject of railway transportation was earnestly discussed, and the difficulty encountered in shipping fruit trees and other nursery freight. A committee was appointed of two members from each state to confer with the railroads, and authorized to obtain more satisfactory terms for all parties concerned. At the election of officers to-day the following were elected for the ensuing year: President, W. C. Barry, Rochester; secretary, D. W. Scott, Chicago; treasurer, A. R. Whitney, Illinois. The society concludes its work tomorrow.

He Set.

Elder Toots, at a meeting of the Lime Kiln Club, arose and begged leave to inquire whether the club had taken any action toward relieving the sufferers of the Chicago fire. If not, he wanted to move that the sum of $100 be voted from the treasury for that purpose. For about a minute the clock sounded like a boy pounding on an empty barrel. Then the president asked:

"Why, sah, mean of de hull city has bin burnt up?"

"What did you git dat news?"

"Right heah, sah," was the reply, as the elder held up a scrap-book in which was pasted a newspaper account of the big conflagration of ten years ago. There was a general laugh and a wild uproar when the old man's mistake was realized, and after the excitement had subsided the president said:

"Elder Toots, you am a good man on a plain job of whitewashin., but when you tackle literature you am purty sartin to git upset. Unless you desire to withdraw that resolution an substitute one wotin' money to buy Adam a spring obercoat you had better set down."

The elder fell back in a lump and adjusted his spectacles for another wrestle with the old scrap-book.—Detroit Free Press.

How to Save.

All men and women who work hard with mind or body are subject to periodical attacks of biliousness, which way end in disordered kidneys or liver and dangerous illness. A 50 ct. or $1.00 bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic will keep these organs active, and by preventing the attack save you much sickness, loss of time and great expense. Many families are kept in perfect health by using the Tonic when Spring or Fall sickness threatens. Delay at such times means danger.—Detroit Press. See other column.

The Whirligig of Time.

[Enquirer Washington Special.]

As an illustration of the compensations brought about by the whirligig of time, attention is called to the fact that, while no relative of General Washington has lived at Mount Vernon for many years, and none of his family own any portion of the estate, descendants of three families of negro servants still live there, and neither they nor their ancestors have known any other home since General Washington brought their ancestors there.

The White House was built in 1792 at a cost of $33,000. Additions have since been made, increasing the cost to $1,700,000.
